Rahul Kumar

India

WRITER 2021

Rahul completed his MBA and lived a parallel life, juggling a corporate career and his arts practice. A Fulbright Scholar with a Masters-in-Arts from USA and a Charles Wallace fellow, he received scholarships from India Foundation for the Arts and Ministry of Culture (Government of India). His works have been auctioned at Sotheby's-London and has received the national AIFACS award, thrice. His works are part of significant collections including the Kiran Nadar Museum of Art. He was part of the First Indian Ceramics Triennial, 2018.

Rahul stepped out of mainstream corporate life and was the founding team member of an art venture incubated by NDTV. He led the business categories and also co-anchored a programme for NDTV-Prime. Rahul is now living his dream, writing on visual arts, curating art shows and residencies. He is the Editor (Arts) with STIR and a writer with Mint Lounge. He is the past consulting editor for Arts Illustrated.
